Single-storey Stylistic Set

In lowercase letters there's a predominant use of round monolinear forms with sweet boucles but strong and straightforward traits matching the texture of the Arabic script, giving a neutral aroma in text.

Chopped vertexes

Slightly angled

Straight.
No inktraps or angled stems

The features designed in Arabic are extrapolated to the Latin forms keeping the same proportions

Blunt corner

Same angled terminals in long ascenders and straight short vertical stems to favor neutrality.

Horizontal ends slightly angled to match the terminals in Arabic.

S e

Straight projections to contribute the verticality in the texture of the text.
